

The Historie of

What with our helpe, what with the absent King,
What with the iniuries of wanton time,
The seeming sufferances that you had borne,
And the contrarious windes that helde the King
So long in the vnluckie Irish Warres,
That all in England did repute him dead;
And from his swarme of faire aduantages,
You tooke occasion to be quickly wooed,
To gripe the generall sway into your hand,
Forgot your oath to vs at Doncaster;
And being fed by vs, you vs'd vs so,
As that vngentle gull the Cuckowes bird,
Vseth the Sparrow, did oppresse our nest,
Grew by our feeding, to so great a bulke,
That euen our loue durst not come neare your sight
For feare of swallowing: but with nimble wing
We were inforst for safety sake, to flie
Out of your sight, and raise this present head,
Whereby we stand opposed by such meanes
As you your selfe haue forg'd against your selfe,
By vnkind vsage, dangerous countenance,
And violation of all faith and troth
Swore to vs in your younger enterprise.

King. These things indeede, you haue articulated,
Proclaymed at Market crosses, read in Churches,
To face the garment of Rebellion,
With some fine colour that may please the eye
Of fickle changelings, and poore discontents,
Which gape, and rub the Elbow at the newes
Of hurly burly innouocation:
And neuer yet did insurrection want
Such water colours, to impaint his cause;
Nor muddy Beggars, staruing for a time,
Of pel-mell hauocke and confusion.

Prin. In both your Armes, there is many a soule
Shall pay full dearely for this encounter.
If once they ioine in tryall, tell your Nephew,
The Prince of Wales doth ioine with all the world

Henry the Fourth.

In praise of Henry Percy: by my hopes
This present enterprise set of his head,
I doe not thinke a brauer Gentleman,
More actiue, more valiant, or more valiant yong,
More daring, or more bould, is now aliue,
To grace this latter age with noble deeds:
For my part, I may speake it to my shame,
I haue a trewant been to Chiualrie,
And so I heare he doth account me too;
Yet this before my Fathers Maiestie,
I am content that he shall take the ods
Of his great name and estimation,
And will to saue the bloud on either sied,
Try fortune with him in a single fight.

King. And, Prince of Wales, so dare we venture
Albeit, considerations infinite
Doe make against it: No good Worcester, no,
Wee loue our people well; euen those we loue
That are misled vpon your Coosens Part:
And will they take the offer of our Grace,
Both hee, and they, and you yea euery man,
Shall bee my griend againe, and Ile be his.
So tell your Coosen, and bring me word,
What he will doe. But if he will not yeelde
Rebuke and dread correction waite on vs,
And they shall doe their office. So be gone,
We will not now bee troubled with reply,
We offer faire, take it aduisedly. Ex.

Prin. It will not be accepted, on my life,
The Douglas and the Hotspur both together,
Are confident against the world in armes.

King. Hence therefore, euery Leader to his ch
For on their answer will we set on them;
And God befriend vs, as our cause is iust. Ex.

Fal. Hal, if thou see me downe in the Battle
And bestride me so, tis a point of friendship,

Prin. Nothing but a Colossus can doe thee that Say thy prayers, and farewell.
